HCPC Update	A. Varney introduce Greg Piduch, a new member of the HCPC team. There was discussion about incorporating some of the analysis provided in a recent Ellsworth American article on housing to the Blue Hill market, if possible. S. King or G. Hurvitt will reach out to A. Grindal to see if she can provide data, similar to that in the EA article, for Blue Hill. The Transportation chapter should be available for review next week; Agriculture and Forestry are done (available for review).		Noted S. King/G. Hurvitt to reach out to A. Grindal
Engagement Subcommittee	The subcommittee plans to hold the next public session on August 15 at 6pm. The venue has not been determined; candidates include the Fire Station or the Howard Room at the library. The survey will “close” on July 31; there will continue to be a push to solicit survey responses before then. J. Fehrle has prepared some large QR code signs linked to the survey site, they will be displayed at various venues where people tend to congregate. It was agreed that the survey would actually stay available for a week or two after the deadline, just in case there are straggler respondents.		Noted Noted
Chapter Review	The Chapter Review subcommittee will turn its focus to the Archaeological and Historic Resources and Recreation and Health chapters at its next meeting.		Noted

	The remainder of the meeting consisted of a line-by-line review of draft goals and objectives for the Water Resources and Marine Resources chapters.	Noted
Survey Call to Action	G. Hurvitt reminded committee members that they should continue to send emails and encourage one-on-one conversations about the Comp Plan and, in the near term, completion of the survey. Email message templates have been distributed to the full committee.	Noted
Next Meeting	The next meeting of the full Committee is scheduled for August 10, 2023 at 4:00pm.
Adjournment	The meeting adjourned at 5:27pm.
